

2018 Director Workshops

“Elements of a Successful Conservation District”

Workshop Description:

Your journey to becoming a high-performing Conservation District board member begins here. The New Director Workshop, presented by the Michigan Association of Conservation Districts (MACD) is appropriate for board members new to their District, or those wanting a refresher on the basics. District managers are welcome, noting that the information is targeted to directors.

The Workshop will provide a comprehensive overview of Michigan Conservation Districts, critical and interdependent partner relationships, roles and duties of both board and staff, and how to plan and fund your District. This workshop will offer the opportunity to explore each of the topic areas in depth, while interacting with the presenters and with your peers. It is important to note that each of the sections is also covered in detail through the MACD Training Modules, available online through the MACD website.

Recommended Pre-Requisites: To get the most from this workshop, it is helpful to have viewed the MACD Training Modules 1 and 2.

- Module 1: The Basics of Michigan Conservation Districts
- Module 2: The History and Future of Conservation Districts

You will find both of these training modules, and more at: <http://macd.org/district-resources/training.html>

Workshop Agenda – Full Day (Six hours, 9am-3pm)

9:00 – Noon

Welcome & Introductions MACD 5 minutes

Conservation Districts and Their Partners John Switzer and Steve Law 75 minutes

Conservation Districts partner with many local and statewide groups and organizations. But the two main agencies that assist with Conservation Districts are the Michigan Department of Agriculture & Rural Development and the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service. This section will cover how each entity operates independently, and interdependently for maximum performance. Benefits and challenges of districts being co-located and non-co-located will also be covered.

Board Members -From Recruitment to Retirement Patrice Martin 90 minutes

The success of the District is dependent on the performance of its Directors. Understanding your board culture, recruiting and onboarding new directors and planning for succession are critical elements that create and support the high performing board culture to which every District aspires. This section will explore the lifecycle of a board member and how to ensure a successful experience for everyone.

Lunch Break 30 minutes

Best Meetings Ever Patrice Martin 45 minutes

As a governmental entity, Conservation Districts are subject to the Open Meetings Act, among others. Learn how to plan, structure and conduct your meetings for the best possible outcomes, while ensuring transparency and accountability.

Planning for Success Steve Law 90 minutes

How a District goes about preparing a long-range plan of work is as important as the plan itself. This section will explore how to use your community assessment data to drive your strategic plans, produce effective outcomes and continually generate community support. Learn how to broaden your perspective of how to fund your District, while building and sustaining critical, local relationships.

Legislative Advocacy Steve Law 15 minutes

Adjourn

Evening Training Agenda

The abbreviated evening session is designed to accommodate those Directors who are unable to attend day time sessions and for those District staff who are unable to attend day time sessions due to workload in the District office.
